WEYLER FORCED TO RELEASE DAWLEY.

Could Not Prove the Charges Against the American Artist.

He Was Kept in a Filthy Dungeon in Mons Castle for Eleven Days for Absolutely No Offense.

Will Demand a Claim for Damages. General Gomez Refused to Hear English the Spanish Troops in a Battle That Lasted for Forty-two Hours.

Madrid, June 16.—Thomas R. Dawley, the correspondent of Harper's Weekly, who was arrested on the charge of being in communication with the Spanish forces, was today released from the castle of Mons, Belgium, where he had been confined for eleven days.

STORM WINDS LASH THE JERSEY COAST.

Buildings Are Flayed into Splinters and Trees Torn Up by the Roots.

Men Whipped into the Air, One from a Woman's Dress and Another from a Board Walk.

THEY SAVE FIVE LIVES. Captain Morris and a South-Central Storm-Sea Man Struggle in a Cretaceous Bay.

Atlantic City, N. J., June 18.—The storm which swept over the Jersey coast today was the most severe since the late of the year. The wind was from the west and north, and the waves were high and breaking. The storm was accompanied by a heavy rain, and the wind was so strong that it was impossible to stand against it.
